From Revd Dr James Garnett

Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

This Preaching Plan takes us into Advent. It has been a pleasure to share with you in wonder during the season of Creation and in thanksgiving during the season of Harvest and Remembering. Our eyes now turn to the future in this season for visions.

We anticipate a time when the earth shall be filled with the glory of God as the waters cover the sea: a time when God's law of love, made incarnate in Christ, will rule every heart and every nation. While waiting, we ask ourselves what part are we being called to play in this vision – as individuals, yes; but as churches too.

During Advent, around the Circuit, we will be exploring ways in which churches from elsewhere in Methodism are reimagining their place in God's transformation of the world. This will be a time for sons and daughters to prophesy, for young men and women to have visions, for old men and women to dream dreams (Acts 2:16-18 and Joel 2:28). It is a time for us to imagine together what God might be calling our churches to become.

Christmas is a time to celebrate God's covenant with us: for God's part, expressed in the person of Christ; for ours, expressed through our commitment to follow where Christ leads us. In the forty days between Christmas and Candlemass, our annual Covenant Services give us the opportunity to rededicate ourselves, as Jesus was dedicated to God in the Temple.

For our Circuit, this year, there will follow a time to share the visions of Advent, to speak of God's call on our hearts, to listen to each other. It is through conversation that we come to understand the partiality of our own view of God's purposes, and begin to piece together the larger picture.

This Preaching Plan takes us up to the beginning of Lent (Ash Wednesday will be on 5 March 2025). By then, our churches will have begun to prepare a Mission Plan for the next three years. Lent will be a time of self-examination, when we will ask what might be set aside in order to devote our energy to the visions of Advent.

In all of this, may we draw closer to God – through our worship, and in our life together in the community of our churches.

Yours in Christ,
James
